

James was born and raised on a sheep and cattle ranch in Midway, Utah. He learned early the value of hard work. His schooling was in Midway and later at Wasatch High where he was active in F.F.A., wrestling, and rodeoing. He then went on to Utah State and Weber State. While in college, Jim was a member of the Weber State Rodeo Team.

Annette also a Heber native attended North School and Wasatch High. While there, she was active in all sports, the drama team, chorus, and the rodeo club. Her summers were spent working on her parents' fishing dude ranch, located in the High Uintas. She then attended Ricks College, Utah Tech., and finally B.Y.U. majoring in Elementary Education. Before her education was completed, she married.

They moved to Garrison, Utah, where Jim worked on his father's ranch for two and  $\frac{1}{2}$  years. He worked the next few years as an Animal Health Salesman in Kimberly, Idaho. It was here their daughter Kortnie was born. He then worked for Steve Regan Com. in Utah as manager of four states. Jim enjoyed this type of work, something he loves, working with livestock. In 1976, they moved back to Heber and built a home. Their son, Redgie, was born and we were happy to be in our own home.

In 1979, Jim made a decision to leave the Animal Health Business, and join his father to manage the sheep business. We all enjoy this type of life. We love being and working outdoors.

Annette has been a part-time waitress at the Homestead Resort. She also enjoys woodworking (including some furniture in our home), gardening, horseback riding, aerobics, and having fun. I enjoy my church work and am presently working as a counselor in the Young Women's Organization.

Jim enjoys working in church and community rodeos, both participating, and spectating. He enjoys traveling and learning about the American Indians and has traveled to many historical places and reservations. He enjoys his church calling as ward membership clerk.

Kortnie has recently been baptized. She has taken dance & is a member of a singing group. She also is taking piano lessons. She likes horses and basketball and having a friend sleep over.

Redgie likes helping his dad. He enjoys wrestling, football, basketball and riding calves.
